Statements of hate to SDMM members in emails on April 21, 2008:

“Actually, I'm trying to arrange a debate between me, you and two of your dumb ass thugs. 3 to one, an even match.”

“Actually, I’m trying to arrange a debate between me, you and two of your thugs and maybe a mail order bride (reference to anti-illegal immigration activist Claudia Spencer). But no one wants to hear you maggots.”

“None of you can prove I am a liar or a racist.”“As for (Roger) Hedgecock, the Vietnam War draft dodger and convicted-by-a-jury felon, I am suggesting to the colleges that he be the moderator.”

Apr. 27,2008 to an American of Italian decent:

The Mexican drug cartels are nothing compared to what YOU Italians did for so many years. There are not legions of police and public officials being bribed by Mexicans like YOU Italians accomplished for decades. Look at the recent roundup of 60 Gambono family members in Brooklyn. Look at the huge number of mob killings in New York City alone over the years. Mexicans have a lot to learn from YOU Italians. The first lesson is to observe how the Sicilian mob totally dominates its society and its children and grand-children even in America. I pick on Italians because they tolerated the Mafia for generations; didn't stand up against the criminals and sanctified them for years. On the other hand, I have criticized Mexican criminals, high school drop-outs and radicals who still cry over spilled milk from 1848. These people hate me. Cruz Bustamante won't speak to me since 2003 when we used to talk all the time. Nonetheless, I lead the charge on these examples of dry rot among my own.
